

SOCIAL VALUE & COMMUNITY BENEFITS PPN06 AND BEYOND

THIS PRACTICAL SESSION WILL ENABLE THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR MAKING BUYING DECISIONS IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR TO MAXIMISE SOCIAL VALUE IN PROCUREMENT.

OVERVIEW

If you are responsible for spending public money on behalf of your organisation you will be aware of the increasing importance placed on the delivery of social as well as economic value. The Cabinet Office has issued PPN06/20 which can provide a framework for asking for and evaluating bids, but also comes with risks and potentially missed opportunities. This facilitated course gives participants a holistic overview of the topic ensuring that social value can be meaningfully considered when awarding contracts.

- Introduction to Social Value & PPN06/20
- Understanding Communities needs
- Working with Suppliers
- Real World Applications
- Evaluation and Scoring
- Contract Management & Measuring Impact

The course comprises informative takeaways, practical exercises, case studies and examples to ensure participants will be able to apply their learning to their own working environment.

This programme is created by qualified Procurement leaders and experienced Social Value practitioners who work with both buyers and suppliers to help them maximise social value across a range of contract areas.

PARTICIPANTS

Anyone responsible for making buying decisions, particularly in the public sector. It is designed for those with some experience of procurement processes but newer to ideas of social value. You might find it beneficial to complete the Cabinet Office training introducing PPN06 first. Participants will be given a certificate of attendance.

COSTS

£500+ VAT per person (£299+ VAT Public Sector)

If you have 10+ participants a bespoke version of this course can be completely tailored for your organisation including the kind of contracts you bid for, your strategic aims, and actual social value offer.
